

...BUT
I'M STILL
STANDING.

...he had a weak constitution and was no good at athletics.

When
the hero known as Superalloy Blackluster
was a young boy...

...so he spent his childhood timid and without confidence.

When it came to sports and games like tag, he always lost...

A few years
later...

...and increased the weight to 5 and then 10
kilograms.

He
lifted
them every day without fail...

...he asked his parents for 3-kilogram dumbbells.

For his 15th
birthday
...

...he could lift 50
kilograms
with one arm...

...and
then more time
passed.

A few
more years
later...

1 ton

2 tons

200
kilograms

500
kilo-
grams

How strong was the physique he eventually acquired?

He had been victorious
in his lonely struggle and fostered unwavering confidence
in himself.

He was so strong that numbers could not express it.

His
muscula-ture was matchless.

He displayed
overwhelming
prowess in sporting events and then shifted his sphere of activity to the hero world,
where he continued to beef up.

Then he began searching for a rival worthy of facing him at 100 percent.

And
after victory
upon victory...

...he rose to Class S.

Was he looking for a “fight”?

No,
he
was not.

GARO IS STRONG!

*THIS MAN
...*

*ASTOUND-INGLY
STRONG!!*

He was not looking for a “fight.”

...the fear
he had forgotten...

...
returned in a big way.

A gigantic way!

LOO000M

Next chapter hits June 24!

